

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

C. White Marine, Inc. is recognized by Associated Builders and Contractors as 2014 STEP Safety Award Winner

C. White Marine, Inc., a general contractor specializing in marine construction, pile driving, bridge construction, bridge rehabilitation and earth retention based in Danvers, MA is the proud recipient of the STEP safety award from Associated Builders and Contractors (ABC) for the 9th consecutive year. ABC's STEP (Safety Training and Evaluation Process) program recognizes select member companies that meet the very highest qualifications for safety preparedness and performance. Candidate evaluations are based on incidence rates (accidents) and experience modification rate (EMR) for the application year.

Since 2006, C. White Marine, Inc. has participated in the STEP program and has continually used the program benchmarks to improve and enhance their safety program. "Our goal is zero accidents and the STEP program gives us the foundation in which to reach that goal" said C. White Marine, Inc. owner Catherine White. "ABC and the George W. Gould Construction Institute are invaluable resources and give us the tools to help build on our continued success."

For more information on the STEP program, contact Barbara Lagergren, Executive Director of the Gould Construction Institute, the training arm of ABC, at barbara@gwgci.org. For more information on ABC, please visit www.abcma.org or call 781-273-0123.

C. White Marine, Inc., a general contractor specializing in marine construction is the proud recipient of the STEP safety award from Associated Builders and Contractors (ABC) for the 9th consecutive year. Pictured left to right is Ivan Quinchi, Chairman of GCI Board, Catherine White of C. White Marine, Inc. and Tom Descoteaux, Chairman of ABC.